RightTrack[®] helps put you in control of your savings.

How RightTrack works.

Once you've taken a few seconds to install your RightTrack device, you're in control. The device will measure four key characteristics of your driving: time of day, miles driven, hard braking, and rapid acceleration. After the 90-day review, you could earn a discount of up to 30%.

You can see how you're doing.

You can review your driving data and view your potential discount by logging into your online account.¹

Your privacy, our pledge.

Safeco respects your privacy and will only use your personal driving information and email address to determine and maintain your eligibility for the RightTrack program or for research purposes.

And remember, your premium will never go up due to your participation in the program.

It's easy to start saving.
